

Transportation

Serving the Transportation Industry

Founded over 35 years ago, Kaufman Dolowich is a nationally recognized, AV-rated® law firm that is well-positioned to meet the legal needs of companies throughout the transportation industry. Our lawyers represent various entities involved in over-the-road transportation, including trucking companies, chassis owners and chassis lessors. We have a deep understanding of the industry and the complex federal and state laws governing its operations, including the Federal Department of Transportation regulations that apply to owners and operators of tractor-trailers and chassis.

Our attorneys advise and defend industry clients against personal injury, property damage and other claims stemming from accidents that occur on the road. We also represent insurance companies, including Protection Indemnity Clubs, which insure trucking companies and chassis owners for these types of risks.

At Kaufman Dolowich, we are committed to providing our transportation industry clients with the highest level of professional service. When defending against a liability claim, our lawyers take quick and decisive action to protect the legal and business interests of our clients. We launch a thorough investigation of the claim and work directly with our clients to craft legal plans and strategies tailored to their individual needs and expectations. Our attorneys understand that these types of claims are highly disruptive and can expose our clients to substantial liability. Whether we are negotiating a settlement, mediating a claim, or taking a case to trial, our objective is to achieve a favorable outcome for our clients in the most expeditious manner possible.