

Arrival of Four New Partners Gains Media Attention

The recent addition of partnersPatrick Kennell, Marc Voses, Steven Nassi and Jeffrey Matty to KD's New York offices, has gained attention from various media outlets. Their arrival has been noted by Bloomberg News, New York Business Journal and Advisen thus far. Below are excerpts from some of these publications.

Bloomberg - Business of Law (February 2, 2015)

Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck Hires Four Partners in New York

Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck LLP announced that Patrick Kennell, Marc Voses, Steven Nassi and Jeffrey Matty are joining the firm as partners in New York.

They all have at least a decade of experience as litigators and insurance coverage attorneys for U.S. and international insurers. The four were formerly partners in the New York office of Nelson Brown & Co.

New York Business Journal - People on the Move (February 3, 2015)

Patrick Kennell

Partner at Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck

Kennell represents some of the largest global insurers in the U.S. and London, focusing his practice on professional liability, directors & officers, commercial litigation, general liability and financial institutions (FI) matters.

Marc Voses

Partner at Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck

Voses represents domestic and international insurers and reinsurers, and their insureds, in coverage and liability disputes. He is a highly respected litigator who has been called upon to address complex coverage and liability issues involving cyber, data and privacy exposures

Steven Nassi

Partner at Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck

Nassi represents insurance companies in complex coverage, risk management and extracontractual (bad faith) claims issues. He handles insurance cases involving commercial property and liability, environmental, errors and omissions, privacy and data breach, energy and catastrophe

Jeffrey Matty

Partner at Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck

Matty represents domestic and international insurers in a variety of complex coverage matters including errors and omissions, directors and officers and specialty line policies, and represents insurance brokers, lawyers, and accountants in malpractice actions.

To view the original press release, click here.