

"D&O Challenges Significant For Private Companies," Ivan Dolowich quoted, Business Insurance, 2-16-2023

The economy is continuing to present some significant, still unresolved, challenges for private company directors and officers, including the ongoing threat of bankruptcy, experts say... (see READ MORE for full article)

Discussing claims trends, session moderator Ivan J. Dolowich, co-managing partner with Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck LLP in Woodbury, New York, said while COVID-related claims have not materialized as expected, the market is now seeing claims around return-to-work, discrimination issues. There has also been a pickup in regulatory claims, as well as under the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act and the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, he said.
