

Kaufman Dolowich Adds Litigation Partner Annalisa Zulueta in San Francisco, 8-14-2024

SAN FRANCISCO (August 14, 2024) – Kaufman Dolowich, a leading national law firm, today announced the arrival of litigation partner Annalisa Zulueta in its San Francisco office. Zulueta joins the firm from Lewis Brisbois Bisgaard Smith, and brings more than 15 years of experience in civil litigation and general liability to the firm.

“Annalisa brings well-rounded litigation experience to the firm, adding capacity and strength to our bench,” said Tad Devlin, Managing Partner of Kaufman Dolowich’s San Francisco and Oakland offices. “We are happy to welcome her to our partnership.”

Zulueta has a civil litigation focus, including professional liability, general liability, and products liability, as well as catastrophic property damage. In a previous role she served as the managing attorney of the San Jose office of G&P | Schick, where she supervised operations of the office and its attorneys, while gaining litigation experience and building her practice. She started her career at plaintiff law firm Rockwood & Noziska, where she supported bad-faith insurance trials.

“Having litigated on both sides of the ‘v,’ she brings a broad perspective and will provide helpful strategic counsel to our clients, as we work to protect their interests,” said Michael Kaufman, co-managing partner of Kaufman Dolowich. “Annalisa is a sharp, talented attorney and we are happy to have her on board.”

Zulueta earned her J.D. from the University of San Diego School of Law and her B.A. in legal studies from the University of California, Berkeley. She is a member of the Filipino Bar Association of Northern California.

“I look forward to working with my new colleagues at Kaufman Dolowich, who have been incredibly welcoming. The firm’s close-knit culture provides the feeling of a small firm, but with the benefit of having access to big-firm resources through its large national presence,” said Zulueta.
