

Oakland Pushes Ahead With Progressive Wage-And-Hour, Law360

By Katherine Catlos, Esq. and Gabriel Rubin, Esq.

Law360, New York (February 27, 2015) — Far from Gertrude Stein’s description of her former hometown — “there is no there there” — Oakland is poised to be a frontrunner in terms of progressive wage-and-hour protections in California. The transportation industry, hotels and restaurants will likely be the first to feel the impact...