California Regulation And Legislation To Watch In 2014
Law360 (January 1, 2014)

California's plaintiffs bar is mobilizing to lift a decades-old cap on medical malpractice awards in 2014, and attorneys will also be keeping track of whether recently passed laws such as San Francisco's flexible workplace measure and statewide data-breach notice rules spur additional workers' rights legislation and increases in privacy enforcement. Here are several legislative efforts that California lawyers will be watching in 2014...
