February 14, 2013 — Kaufman Dolowich Voluck, LLP (KDV), a leading national law firm, today announced that Ivan J. Dolowich will join Michael A. Kaufman as a co-managing partner of the firm. They will work together to oversee all aspects of the firm's business.

Dolowich has been a partner in KDV's Woodbury, NY office since joining the firm in 2006. He focuses his practice on directors and officers liability and financial-related lines insurance matters and is widely respected throughout the industry for his expertise.

"Over the seven years Ivan and I have been working side-by-side, we have established a great synergy and respect for each other's capabilities," said Michael Kaufman, co-managing partner. "This new relationship will enable me to be more active in my practice, partaking in more high-level litigations and further collaborating with other partners in the firm. For our clients, this transition will simply mean even better service."

Kaufman's practice focuses on wage and hour, employment practices liability, and labor and employment law on behalf of management.

"Michael and I are extremely pleased by KDV's growth in recent years despite a challenged economy," said Mr. Dolowich. "We promoted two new partners last month, one on the East Coast and one on the West Coast, and have seen the number of attorneys at KDV quadruple, growing from 20 to 86, since early 2007."

Dolowich's new role as co-managing partner of KDV is in line with the firm's strategy to maintain a deep commitment to client service and comes at a time when the firm is rolling out its new positioning statement "Our Service Makes the Case."

KDV just debuted a new website (www.kaufmandolowich.com) and will continue to unveil new marketing initiatives over the course of the year to communicate the message to clients and prospects. In the past two years the firm has opened three new offices in New York City, Los Angeles and Boca Raton, FL.

"In 2013 we want KDV to expand its overseas work and grow specific practices in the United States including our private client business," said Mr. Kaufman. "This new partnership gives us the flexibility to concentrate on our specific practices and hone in on firm-wide expansion plans while continuing to provide the service our clients have come to expect from us over the years."
